➤ 关于 Penpath 打卡营

在持续更新的“TASK2 喂饭”系列里，我结合考查方向帮大家梳理了常见话题的写作思路，也融入了不少实用的论证方法。你可以把它看作一个「写作工具箱」——就像我在 B 站给这个系列起的名字一样。毕竟，表达的前提是“有内容可写”。如果对一个话题完全陌生，再多的技巧也很难发挥作用。

不过，光有“想法”还不够。想在考场上有限的时间与字数里，写出一篇高质量的文章，我们还需要：熟悉不同题型、学会识别审题陷阱、掌握清晰的段落推进方法，同时在词汇与句型上也不掉链子——而这一切，也是我们这次 TASK2 一周打卡营的初衷。

这一周的目标很明确：帮你更轻松、更有把握地，写出一篇好文章。

➤ Day2 任务的参考答案

Some people believe that the best way to improve road safety is to increase the minimum legal age for driving cars and motorbikes. To what extent do you agree or disagree?

*为了强化大家的理解，我会尽可能分析得充分一些。

主体段 1:

分析“提高法定驾驶年龄”的合理性与局限性

我为什么将局限性与和合理性并作一段，是因为分析该方法的弊端/局限性内容不足以支撑一个完整的段落——所以大家一定要记住，分段是灵活的。

一些人支持提高驾驶法定驾驶最低年龄，核心原因在于年轻驾驶者（尤其是未成年群体）心智尚未成熟。这类人群容易因过度自信或冲动情绪，在驾驶中做出违反交通规则的行为，例如超速行驶、闯红灯等，而这些行为正是引发交通事故的重要诱因。

然而，这一措施并不能解决所有道路安全问题——即便经验丰富的老司机，也可能因长期驾驶积累的“放松心态”，忽视路况细节或抱有侥幸心理（如开车看手机、疲劳驾驶），同样会对道路安全构成威胁。

主体段 2:

提出更有效的替代措施

熟练的对“绝对词限定”进行反对，提出更好的方法——关于改善交通安全的更好方法，在 Day2 的交通思维导图模块已经给大家展示得很充分了，我这里简单带过。

因此，改善道路安全的关键不在于调整驾驶者的年龄，而在于从“约束行为”和“提升能力”两方面采取更有针对性的措施。首先，应加大对交通违法行为的惩罚力度(细化措施)；除此之外，需提高获取驾照的门槛。

表达补充:

Young drivers, especially minors, are still developing psychological maturity. Consequently, they may drive over-confidently or impulsively, leading to traffic violations such as speeding and running red lights. These behaviors are, in turn, key triggers for accidents.

-are still developing psychological maturity 心智尚未成熟

-impulsive adj. 冲动的

-violation n. 违反, 违背 traffic violation 交通违规

-key trigger 关键诱因, 关键诱发因素

➤ 经典真题速递

Everyone should stay in school until they reach the age of 18. To what extent do you agree or disagree?

每个人都应该在学校就读直至年满 18 岁。你在多大程度上同意还是不同意？

又一道经典真题出炉：本题依旧采用“同意与否”的提问模式。看到题干中“everyone”这类标志性绝对词时，大家能否立刻联想到昨天所学的对应解题思路？值得注意的是，本题的审题重点不止于此，还隐藏着另一处更高频的审题陷阱，需要重点关注。

在本讲中，你将系统掌握：

1. 识别第二大类常见审题限定；
2. 快速构建题干中常见人物、地点、时间的特征画像，为论证提供精准素材支撑(重点)

➤ 原创范文赏析

Everyone should stay at school until 18 years old. To what extent do you agree or disagree?

The appropriate length of formal schooling is a topic of active discussion in many societies. In my view, while maintaining education until 18 is beneficial for the great majority of students, it is equally important to acknowledge that this should not be a one-size-fits-all rule for every student.

Firstly, compulsory education until 18 acts as a vital protective measure for young people. This is particularly crucial because adolescents are often not psychologically mature enough to make fully informed decisions, leaving them susceptible to negative influences such as peer pressure or misleading information. In this context, schools provide a structured and supervised environment that shields them from potential risks, such as juvenile delinquency or exploitation in unskilled labor markets, thereby guiding them towards safer development.

Moreover, adolescence constitutes a golden period for acquiring new knowledge, rendering formal schooling uniquely effective. Compared to adults, young people generally demonstrate a greater openness to new ideas and a superior ability to assimilate knowledge from vastly different disciplines such as mathematics, natural sciences, and literature. This intellectual flexibility, supported by their strong memory retention, allows them to build a solid and broad academic foundation, thereby paving the way for further education or skilled employment.

However, this does not automatically mean that every minor must stay in school until 18. Those with exceptional talents in fields such as sports or arts require intensive, daily training that standard schooling cannot accommodate. Moreover, their peak competitive period often occurs before adulthood. Waiting until after 18 to focus on training may cause them to miss this critical window. Therefore, providing structured alternatives for such individuals is a more reasonable and effective solution.

In conclusion, the policy of requiring education until 18 remains justified for most students, allowing them to fully develop their academic capabilities while ensuring their safety and guidance. At the same time, it is crucial to preserve flexibility within the system by offering structured alternatives for exceptionally gifted individuals, thereby balancing collective welfare with the need to nurture unique talents.
